Hiring System Administrators

Gretchen Phillips
Contents

Foreword by William LeFebvre  v

Acknowledgments vii

1.0 Introduction 1
  1.1 The Hiring Process 1
  1.2 Overview of Important Issues 2

2.0 Before You Begin 5
  2.1 Recognizing the Need to Hire 5
  2.2 Authorization to Recruit 6
  2.3 Company Policies and Procedures 6
  2.4 Assess the Corporate Culture 7
  2.5 Opportunities for Change 8
  2.6 Position Description 8
  2.7 When to Look 11
  2.8 Search Committee 11

3.0 Publicizing the Position 17
  3.1 Informal Networking 17
  3.2 The Advertisement 17

4.0 Initial Review of Applicants’ Materials 21
  4.1 Minimum Requirements 21

5.0 The Interview Process 23
  5.1 Legal and Illegal Questions 23
  5.2 Tests 23
  5.3 Telephone Interviews 24
  5.4 Personal Interviews 24

6.0 Evaluating the Candidates 27
  6.1 Second Use of the Evaluation Tool 27
  6.2 Evaluation of Technical Expertise 28
  6.3 Interpersonal Skills 28
  6.4 Problem Solving Skills 28
  6.5 Integration of Staff 29
6.6 Fit with Your Clients
6.7 Past Career Path
6.8 Growth Potential and Desire
6.9 Future Career Plans
6.10 Work Style
6.11 Support Systems
6.12 Candidate Preferences
6.13 When a Good Candidate Doesn’t Exactly Fit the Job
6.14 Checking References

7.0 Expectations
  7.1 Your Expectations
  7.2 Your Supervisor’s and Organization’s Expectations
  7.3 The Candidate’s Expectations

8.0 Making the Offer
  8.1 Negotiating
  8.2 Negotiating with Your Organization
  8.3 Negotiating with the Candidate

9.0 SAGE Community Thoughts
  9.1 Inexperienced System Administrators
  9.2 Experienced System Administrators
  9.3 Candidate Evaluations

Appendix A: Advertisements
Appendix B: Evaluation Tool
Appendix C: Interview Questions
Appendix D: Reference Questions
Appendix E: References